SHORT VOLLEYS—Before
Harold Stassen, a tennis enthusiast, became President Eisenhower's adviser on disarmament he used to visit the Sheraton Park courts and view four of his top Foreign Operations Administration aides in action . . . The four were Christian Herter, Jr., Bob Matteson, Norman Paul and George Dolgin who dominated play on the F. O. A. tennis ladder . . .
